D.O. No. 313

Dear Sir Kantaraj Urs,

You may perhaps be aware that a new Isolation Hospital is one of the schemes of improvement to be financed from the Assigned Tract Revenues in the Civil & Military Station, Bangalore. It has occurred to me that if the City and the Civil & Military Station could have a combined hospital, we might, not only have a very much better hospital, but also greatly reduce expenditure. If you are prepared to consider the matter, we might each depute experts to advise on the scheme.

Yours sincerely,

Ch. Resident.

Dear Sir,

With reference to your office letter No. 16760-Med. 117-20-7 dated the 26th February 1921 and D.O. letter No. G. 19825-Medl. of the 20th instant, I write to inform you that I met Col. Standage and had a formal discussion with him on the subject and we both came to the conclusion that the proposed scheme to have a combined Isolation Hospital for the City and Civil & Military Station was impracticable. In the first place, there is no suitable site situated centrally except the Cubbon Park, available, where a hospital could be built to suit the convenience of both stations. Of course, this is unthinkable. At times of severe epidemics, it would be difficult to secure sufficient number of beds for our patients, if the proposed hospital was administered-
